Supervisor	Prof. Beatrice Centi – Department of Classical Antiquity, Languages, Education, Philosophy E-mail: beatrice.centi@unipr.it
Research Topics  (the applicant must indicate a research topic)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Greek and Latin Philology (and Reception Studies)</li> <li>• Philosophy</li> <li>• Italian Studies and Medieval and Modern Languages and Literatures</li> <li>• History</li> <li>• History of Art and Spectacle</li> </ul>
Training objectives	The doctoral course aims to provide both a sound cultural formation and the methodological skills that are necessary for carrying out research in a specific thematic area. Doctoral students will develop skills to pursue an original research project and to elaborate a highly qualified critical study in the form of a final doctoral dissertation. The thematic area of Greek and Latin Philology (and Reception Studies) aims to deepen the linguistic, literary and philological skills of the doctoral students and particularly to train them in academic research towards the development of a scientific study, particularly in the form of a critical edition, commentary or essay concerning the texts of ancient literatures (Greek and Latin) and those works of the modern and contemporary age that attest their reception. The thematic area of Philosophy aims to deepen both logical and critical skills of the doctoral students and their knowledge of the history of philosophy. Doctoral students will be qualified to carry out research projects requiring conceptual analysis, historical and philological competence, ability in developing argumentations, in the fields of moral and theoretical philosophy, in aesthetics, logic and the history of medieval, modern and contemporary philosophy. The thematic area of Italian Studies and medieval and modern Languages and Literatures aims to develop researchers who are competent in linguistics and philology, as well as in the theory of literature. They will be able to edit critical and commented editions of the texts of Romance and Italian literature, and to carry out innovative historical-literary and thematic analyses in various chronological areas. The thematic area of History aims to form capable scholars in the field of the historical sciences. Its teaching programme aims to address students towards active research and to help them to develop the appropriate technical and methodological abilities. These abilities vary according to the various branches of historical research, which spans from ancient to contemporary history. In the thematic area of the History of Art and History of Spectacle doctoral students are required to develop critical tools to be able to deal with research in the history of medieval art, or modern art or contemporary art, art critic and museology, but also in the fields of theatre history and the history of cinema. Doctoral candidates will acquire skills in reconstructing critical debates, reading different available sources and especially applying the tools for a philological reading of the image.
