Il Dipartimento di Lettere e Filosofia dell'Università di Firenze, in collaborazione con la rivista "Aisthesis. Pratiche, linguaggi e saperi dell'estetico" (edito dalla Firenze University Press) e con il patrocinio della Fondazione ACRI e della Società Italiana di Estetica, è lieto di presentare il Convegno Internazionale "From The Aesthetic Mind To The Symbolic Mind: Perceptual Dynamics, Mimetic Practices and Human Theatricality".

Finalizzato a costituire uno spazio di confronto interdisciplinare sul tema del rapporto tra "mente estetica" e "mente simbolica", il Convegno si pone come punto di convergenza tra apporti di varie generazioni di studiosi provenienti da ogni parte del mondo, al crocevia tra filosofia, antropologia, scienze cognitive e psicologia sperimentale.

The Dipartimento di Lettere e Filosofia at Università di Firenze, in collaboration with the peer-reviewed Journal "Aisthesis. Pratiche linguaggi e saperi dell'estetico" (published by Firenze University Press), along with the partnership of the ACRI Foundation and the Società Italiana di Estetica, is pleased to present the International Conference "From The Aesthetic Mind To The Symbolic Mind: Perceptual Dynamics, Mimetic Practices and Human Theatricality."

Aimed at providing a space of interdisciplinary debate on the relationship between "Aesthetic Mind" and "Symbolic Mind", the Conference arises as a gathering point for inputs coming from various generations of scholars spread all around the world, sitting at the crossroads between philosophy, anthropology, cognitive sciences and experimental psychology.
