TRACCE PROVA SCRITTA

Traccia n. 1
A group of researchers at the University of Parma needs help to complete parts A and B of a RIA/IA project within the Horizon Europe framework programme and they reach out to you for assistance.
What suggestions could you give them for a more effective presentation of the project proposal?
Please describe the various sections of the submission template, illustrating their content, and highlighting which items should be given more considerations in order to obtain a successful evaluation of the proposal.

Prova n. 2
A researcher at the University of Parma needs help to complete parts A and B of a Marie Sklodowska-Curie post-doctoral fellowship project within the Horizon Europe framework programme and she reaches out to you for assistance.
What suggestions could you give her for a more effective presentation of the project proposal?
Please describe the various sections of the submission template, illustrating their content, and highlighting which items should be given more considerations in order to obtain a successful evaluation of the proposal.
(If you prefer, you can choose to describe the submission template of a Marie Sklodowska-Curie doctoral networks instead of the one related to the post-doctoral fellowship)

Prova n. 3
A researcher at the University of Parma has just won a collaborative project within the Horizon Europe framework programme and you have been appointed project manager. The researcher is at the first experience as coordinator and needs guidance.
Since you will have to act as PM throughout all the project implementation, which activities will you have to perform to support the researcher during the grant agreement preparation phase and in the subsequent project management and reporting phases?