

ACRI RESEARCH GRANTS

The competition announcement for the awarding of research prizes, funded by ACRI (Association of Foundations and Banks Savings SpA) through the Young Investigator Training Program (YITP) 2019, obtained from a competitive announcement with the international conference "Italian lessons for Mediterranean architecture: Gardella, Menghi, Vietti" which will take place at the University of Parma, from 24 to 25 November 2022 with the responsibility of the professors of the DIA, Enrico Prandi, Carlo Quintelli and Carlo Gandolfi has been published.

The prizes for a total amount of 30,000 Euros are intended for young Investigator currently affiliated with foreign Research Centers who will have to participate in the International Conference by presenting a scientific contribution and spend at least 45 days in one of the qualified Italian institutions affiliated to the Program, carrying out exclusively activities of collaborative research, not supported by other funding, on the topics of the Conference.

The period of stay can be divided into several periods and must be done by November 30th.

The researchers will carry out a training period at the CSAC Archive, deepening the themes on the funds of the architects Ignazio Gardella, Roberto Menghi and Luigi Vietti.

The proceedings of the conference "Italian lessons for Mediterranean architecture: Gardella, Menghi, Vietti", which follows the analogous event in 2019 at the CSAC, will be published with the contribution of the MIC Italian Ministry of Culture - Directorate General for Education, Research and Institutes cultural heritage and the collaboration of the ARCHICITTA' cultural association of Parma.

Deadline for applications submission: April 6 2022

Full text of the call and further information are available here. <https://dia.unipr.it/it/node/5930>

Please also refer to the website of the International Conference <https://www.gardella-menghi-vietti.unipr.it>